in the Ronald H. Roberts Temecula Public Library Technology Homework Center

UPCOMING SESSIONS: No Prerequisites - Mix and Match - Join Any Session You Like

January 6 to February 3

FICTIONAL FORMS:

What Is the Perfect Length for Your Story?

Highlights the strengths and limitations of various forms of fiction - novel, short story, flash fiction, microfiction - and presents strategies for choosing which form best suits your story.

PLOT & STRUCTURE:

From Story Spine to Scene Flow

Examines both traditional and unconventional forms, showing how structure shapes meaning and impact. Learn how pacing, tension, and scene construction create a compelling narrative.

February 24 to March 24

April 14 to May 12

THEME, SYMBOLISM, & MEANING:

Layering Deep Truths

Explores how to infuse a story with layers that extend beyond plot - developing a thematic core and enriching it through meaningful imagery and symbolism to deepen emotional impact.
